The Voice of the Construction Industry

SAIT TRADES & TECHNOLOGY COMPLEX - DESIGNATED GOLD SEAL PROJECT

Rob Otway, District Manager of PCL Construction Management Inc. shares the importance of the Gold Seal Program to PCL in celebrating the designation of the new Trades & Technology Complex as a Gold Seal Project.

On what was probably the hottest day Calgary has seen all summer, the Calgary Construction Association (CCA) in partnership with SAIT Polytechnic and PCL Construction Management hosted the Gold Seal Designated Project Celebration at the SAIT campus on July 6, 2011.

An audience of 60 delegates from the participating parties and local construction firms along with 500 on-site construction personnel came out to witness the signing of the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) where the official parties commit to collectively promote the national Gold Seal Program and strive for construction excellence.

Official sentiments to the group began with Barry Brown, Chairman of the national Gold Seal Committee, thanking the partners involved and indicated the benefits to the industry such as assuring "the buyers of construction services to know that they are getting professional work and a project of excellent quality based on this national standard of excellence."

Signing of the Memorandum of Understanding by the representatives of the four official parties involved. L to R: Jim Clement, CCA President, Rob Otway, District Manager of PCL Construction Management, Irene Lewis, President and CEO of SAIT Polytechnic and Barry Brown, Chairman of the National Gold Seal Committee.

Rob Otway, District Manager of PCL Construction Management explained that it's PCL's 105th year and they have always been active participants in the construction industry. "It is important to us to raise awareness of the Gold Seal Program - The Gold Seal Program is an example of continuous improvement which takes ourselves to another level of education and understanding, and collectively improve our industry." Other representatives in attendance from PCL included Blaine Maciborsky, Vice President; Bruce Sonnenberg, Operations Manager; and Jason Portas, TTC Construction Manager.

"The Gold Seal designation for the new Trades and Technology Complex is a mark of pride for SAIT, for PCL and the construction industry," says Irene Lewis, SAIT President and CEO. "We look forward to teaching our students the art and science of construction in this spectacular new complex, which, itself, has been built to the highest standards."

The 740,000 sq ft facility will be able to accommodate 8,100 additional full time and part time students each year. She concluded by calling the Trades and Technology Complex a "dream piece."

Following the signing of the MOU, CCA President Jim Clement brought greetings on behalf of the construction industry. Jim noted that all the construction related programs offered at SAIT are accredited Gold Seal courses.

The Calgary Construction Association and DEL Communications Inc. are preparing for the 2012 edition of the Calgary Construction Association magazine, The Constructor. The Constructor will be published in November of 2011, and contain feature articles on the issues, industry news, and projects of the Calgary Construction Association membership. The publication is distributed free of charge to all developers, architects, engineers, government officials, city planners, and Calgary Construction Association members – all key stakeholders for construction in Calgary's thriving construction industry. Total copies distributed is 6,000. Due to an overwhelming interest for advertising in previous issues of The Constructor, precedence will be given to the Calgary Construction Association membership for advertising in the 2012 edition. Calgary Construction Association members will receive a 25% reduction on advertising; non-members can expect to pay double their cost of advertising in future editions of The Constructor, to ensure the magazine continues its mandate of advancing the Calgary Construction Association's important stake in the Calgary, and Alberta, construction industry.
